About Me

Hi! I'm Vincent and I'm a Full Stack Developer based in Sydney, with prior experience working as a Manual Software Tester.

I graduated with a Bachelor's of Commerce majoring in Accounting and Business Information System at Macquarie Unversity in 2015. Despite performing well in accounting, it was not the career path I wanted to take, however I really enjoyed my Business Information Systems subjects and thought I'd try my luck in the IT industry.

I began my professional IT career as a manual software tester for a consultancy firm; having worked with various clients from not-for-profits to corporate organisations and enjoyed working with the IT development team, hence to further my career as an IT professional, I enrolled with CoderAcademy to become a Full Stack Developer.
